COLORADO POLITICS.

Many Members of the Legislature Already in Denver.

Leading Candidates for Offices of the Senate and House.

Senatorial Question a Leading Topic in Hotel Lobbies.

The Field Against Wolcott Appears to be the Situation.

Doings at the Capitol

DENVER, December 27.—A large number of members have already reached the city and secured their quarters for the winter and elected [illegible] to represent them [illegible]. Considerable discussion is [illegible] the success of the candidates for speaker of the house and [illegible]. The speaker [illegible] H. B. Pitts is now considered the leading candidate. For chief clerk of the house W. M. Stevenson is [illegible]. For secretary of the senate the candidates [illegible] are reported as Stanley Stokes, W. B. Felton and C. B. Seaman. Of these three Mr. Stokes seems to be the favorite.

The sole subject of conversation in hotel lobbies, which are now getting crowded with law makers, senatorial candidates and their friends, is the senatorial question. Nothing reliable can be learned or surmised. None of the candidates will be interviewed. They claim to be in the hands of their friends and each one is confident of success. The only thing that as yet seems any impression upon the public is that in the coming fight it will be the field against Wolcott and will doubtless be a long and bitter contest. The following candidates have established headquarters at the Windsor hotel: Ex-Senator Tabor, Senator Bowen, Senator [illegible] and E. O. Wolcott. Others are expected to establish their headquarters within the next few days.

A Serious Riot.

ST. PAUL, December 27.—A special to the Pioneer Press from Sioux City says: A serious riot occurred this morning near Hope, Dak., between Russian Mennonites and Americans. A public sale was held at the farm of a Russian named [illegible] and an American farmer named [illegible] purchased a dozen chickens. When ready to start he found two chickens were missing, and complained [illegible] who told him to take something [illegible] value. He caught a goose and started home, but was overtaken by a party of eight Russians who claimed the goose as their property. A wrangle ensued which attracted others to the scene, and a general fight was in progress in which some twenty men were engaged. The Russians [illegible] weapons. Two brothers named Johnson who were passing joined in the scene with knives. A Russian named Meyer was stabbed, and he in turn split Charles Johnson's head open with a neck yoke inflicting fatal injury. The same weapon [illegible] the arm of Geo. Johnson and knives were used to slash three other Russians but not fatally. The Americans found the force opposing them too strong and withdrew from the fight. The wounded Russians were taken care of by their neighbors, and nothing can be gained from them owing to their close [illegible]. The affair created most intense excitement in the neighborhood where a majority of the settlers are Russians. Officers are now investigating.

A Tragedy at Rico.

DURANGO, December 27.—Information reached here from Rico late last night giving particulars of a tragedy on Christmas eve, in which F. E. Rust, editor of the Rico News, shot and instantly killed [illegible] Olson. It seems that Olson insulted Mr. Rust's sister a short time ago and [illegible] said he should apologize. Olson was insulting and threatened to whip Rust on sight. Rust had for several days tried to avoid trouble and kept away from Olson. On Christmas eve Rust went into the Brunswick saloon and met Olson. Olson went behind the bar, got two revolvers and threw them on the counter and called Rust and asked him to take one of the guns and go out with him and they would settle the difficulty. Rust said no, he did not want to kill him or anyone else. They had a long wordy quarrel when Olson jumped over the counter with a gun in his hand, but Rust was too quick and drew his gun and shot Olson twice, one ball passing through his lungs and killing him almost instantly. Olson was a gambler and was of the [illegible] class of citizens. [illegible] justify Rust in killing Olson.

[illegible] Meeting of Engineers.

ST. LOUIS, December 27.—B. W. Vedder, chairman of the grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of the Gould system, arrived in St. Louis this morning. "I am on my way to Chicago," said Vedder to an Associated press reporter, "where a large [illegible] of the order will convene to [illegible]. It has been demanded [illegible] to form a closer union between the roads operating our lines west of the Mississippi and establish closer relations. For this purpose the meeting was called and officers of the different systems west of the Mississippi between the British [illegible] the present [illegible] representatives from many lodges [illegible] delegates, representing over [illegible] engineers will be present. This will be the first meeting including [illegible] western lines and excluding [illegible]. Chief Arthur will be present [illegible] hope that the meeting will be [illegible] to the order.

African Slave Dealing.

ZANZIBAR, December 27.—It has been [illegible] an agreement [illegible] between the [illegible] Arab slave dealers of [illegible]. The Arabs are [illegible] in slaves and [illegible] punish them. The company [illegible] slaves must make an arrangement [illegible] owners. English [illegible] are obliged to return runaway slaves to their owners. Agents of the company, Mackenzie and General Matthews, accompanied by a number of [illegible] Arabs went to the Rabai church mission station and demanded the surrender of certain runaways who had taken refuge at the station. The missionaries refused to give them up. The company's agent, therefore, in order to avoid col-

[illegible] from [illegible] Zanzibar consul [illegible] to the [illegible] have been [illegible] in the [illegible] and [illegible] from Zanzibar.

[illegible] December 27.—The secretary [illegible] Mr. Mackenzie [illegible] the [illegible] of the story from Zanzibar [illegible] Mackenzie as regards slaves [illegible] to pay for the [illegible].

Inauguration Arrangements.

WASHINGTON, December 27.—Gen. Beale, chairman of the inauguration committee, says that it is his purpose to have no part assigned to any delegation except those for the occupancy of the building and including Presidents, the new vice president and the joint congressional committee. John Dennis, city recording secretary of the committee, in a matter which informed General Harrison and Mr. Morton of their selection, has written that at least half of the forty-seven members of the committee will be at Washington and they would like the place in the line reserved for their carriages. He considers that on account of the great length of the parade it will be impracticable to allow members of the committee to ride in the procession and decides that no place in the line can be given to any persons until about a week before the 4th of March, when the marshal will make assignments of positions to the various organizations that will be represented.

Word has been received from Colorado that ten cowboys and a band will leave Denver to take part in the parade. They will be dressed in the characteristic style of the plains and will travel under the name of the Harrison and Morton club of marching cowboys.

Anarchists' Arguments.

CHICAGO, December 27.—The application on behalf of anarchists of the Arbeiter Bund for an injunction restraining the authorities from preventing their meetings was argued before the master in chancery to-day. On behalf of the Bund it was contended that it was a perfect organization whose sole aim was the amelioration of the condition of the human race, and that the action of the police in forbidding them to meet and in closing all halls against them was an open violation of their constitutional rights as citizens of the Republic. On behalf of the city it was argued that the Bund as a body was made up of men opposed to the operation of all laws, that the propagation of their theories tended to [illegible] life and property. Before the [illegible].

When the arguments were concluded the master reserved his decision, remarking that he would announce the day when his recommendations would be made known.

Stock Market.

NEW YORK, December 27.—The stock market was weak and declining almost all [illegible] the day, and the result of the day's trading is to leave most of the list fractionally lower than last evening, with exceptional losses of more than one per cent. The active list is invariably lower, and Reading and Omaha preferred are down 1½ per cent each. Atchison 1¼ and the rest fractional amounts.

Senator Jones Interviewed.

CHICAGO, December 27.—Senator Jones of Nevada was here last night on his way to Washington. He said to a reporter: "Although the Pacific coast is hardly sanguine enough to expect representation in the cabinet we would be pleased to furnish a man for the secretaryship of the interior. We transact so much land business in our country that it is only fair that this official should be selected from the far west. We are strongly in favor of a secretary of the [illegible] who advocated more economy.

Of the alleged atrocities, purported to have been committed by the Alaska Fur company's employes on Aleuts he says: "These stories have not a particle of truth in them as far as the company part is concerned. They are originated by jealous people who are sworn enemies of the Alaska Fur company and don't want to see their lease renewed in 1890."

The Erickson Disaster.

PORTLAND, Ore., December 27.—At Seattle to-day the coroner's jury made an investigation into the death of J. R. Benson, one of the passengers of the burned steamer Eliza Erickson. It appeared that the Erickson was carrying at the time of the fire [illegible] the number of passengers allowed by law. The jury recommended that the local inspector rigidly enforce the law in regard to the number of passengers steamers are licensed to carry. It was definitely ascertained that six persons were drowned.

Oklahoma Raided.

PURCELL, I. T., December 27.—Indian scouts visited Oklahoma station and arrested all in that vicinity, compelling them to hitch up their wagons, take everything with them and go to the scouts camp. Many of those arrested are men who have been engaged in farming for the government. Others have been railroad employes, temporarily without work. The people of Purcell are very indignant, supposing it to be a scheme to capture the town.

Disreputable Dives Closed.

INDIANAPOLIS, December 27.—United States authorities have ordered all dives in the Vedraillon iron range closed. Saloon keepers have been arrested on the charge of selling liquor without a license. [illegible] charges of [illegible]. It appears the methods [illegible] were resorted to, to obtain evidence of the dives.

Weather Indications.

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27, 10 p. m.—Indications for twenty-four hours commencing Friday, Dec. 28, at 7 a. m. For Colorado: Fair, continued low temperature followed by warmer variable winds.

SENECA, Ks., December 27.—John T. Yates, ex justice of the peace, perished in a snow storm Christmas night on his way home in a buggy.

THE TARIFF DEBATE.

Democrats of the House Preparing for Another Tariff Debate.

Though Some Senators Say They Can Defeat the Bill.

Texas Wool Growers Urge Congress to Amend the Tariff.

Americans Complain of Ill-Treatment by Spanish Authorities.

The Tariff Debate.

WASHINGTON, December 27.—The Evening Star says: Democrats of the house are preparing themselves for another discussion on the tariff before the congress closes. The clerk of the ways and means committee has been set to work to get up information relating to the Senate bill, part of which is for the use of the senators in attacking the bill between the 2nd and 21st of January and part for the use of the house a little later on. Preparations are active for a determined fight upon the bill in the senate within the limited time for debate. Some democratic senators are sanguine enough to think they can defeat the measure in the senate by a square vote. This hope is not very generally entertained, and democrats in the house expect certainly to debate the bill there. No meeting has been held to consider the policy to be followed, except that informally the democrats have come to an understanding that when the bill comes to the house they will have to discuss it.

Action of Texas Wool Growers.

ST. LOUIS, December 27.—Wool growers of Kimble, Menard, Sutton and Schleicher counties, Texas, yesterday adopted resolutions urging congress to amend the present tariff and prevent importation of foreign wool under the names of ring waste, thread waste, yarn waste, etc., now used to evade the tariff. In view of the fact that all the Texas delegates in congress are opposed to the present tariff system and favor free wool, they request J. Randall of Pennsylvania, and William McKinley of Ohio, to represent the Texas wool growing industry when the revision of the tariff comes up in the house.

Redress Demanded.

PHILADELPHIA, December 27.—The brigantine Josefa, from Montego bay, Jamaica, brings news of an outrage suffered at the hands of the Spanish government while discharging. On the outward trip from New York to Arroyo, Porto Rico, Spanish customs officials discovered twenty packages of corn starch on the vessel's manifest were missing. The vessel was seized by the Spanish authorities and held until a fine of $1,000 was paid. The value of the goods did not exceed $28. The master and crew were forced to suffer many indignities at the hands of the governor of the island and officials under his authority. The authorities offered to settle the matter if the captain of the vessel could satisfactorily explain the whereabouts of the missing packages. After the fine had been paid it was ascertained that the missing goods were delivered by mistake on board the ship Josephine, which lay next to the Josefa in New York, but were placed on the Josefa's manifest. The explanation was made to the Spanish authorities and return of the fine requested, but refused. The owners filed complaint against the Spanish government with Secretary Bayard. It urged that the war ships Galena and Yantic be ordered to continue their cruise to Porto Rico and summarily secure redress.

Forty-three Suits Dismissed.

CHICAGO, December 27.—The forty-three suits instituted in the superior court of Cook county October 25 against individuals composing the firm of Howell, Jewett & Co., of Atchison, Kas., and others, by E. L. Roberts and other creditors of the Chicago Lumber company of Kansas, were to-day all of them dismissed at the plaintiff's cost. It is stated that investigation has led the plaintiffs to the conclusion that the suits were brought under a misapprehension of the facts and to believe that their several interests are identical with those of Howell Jewett & Co. as creditors, and can best be subserved by harmonious action in enforcing their demand against the company of which Mr. Gaertner was manager.

Murder by a Boy.

PHILADELPHIA, December 27.—During a fracas here between two rival gangs of boys this afternoon, one side being composed of white and the other colored, Robt. Gray, colored, twelve years old, was struck by a stone from the other side. Gray ran home and procuring his father's revolver returned to the scene of the fight and challenged the other side. The challenge was accepted by James Ford, aged 14 years, who started toward Gray, who thereupon took deliberate aim at Ford and fired, the bullet passing through his lung, fatally injuring him.

Hunting for a Clue.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., December 27.—Mrs. Koehler of Hoboken, and her son-in-law, Police Roundsman Fanning, declare the description of the murdered man whose body was found in Philadelphia yesterday corresponds with that of a German named Krentzmann from Indiana whom they expected from Europe. His wife did not arrive and he went to find friends in New York. He had a large sum of money in his possession. Hoboken police are assisting Philadelphia officers who as yet have been unable to find the slightest clue.

Railroad Dividends.

NEW YORK, December 27.—At the semi annual meeting of directors of the Lake Shore road this morning it was decided to raise the annual dividend from 4 per cent to 5, accordingly the regular semi annual dividend of 2 per cent and an extra of 1 per cent was declared. Other lines declared the usual dividends. In all dividends were declared by the Vanderbilts on nearly one hundred and ninety millions.

Blown Up with Dynamite.

HARRISBURG, Pa., December 27.—Last night a house at the eastern part of the county, in which a number of colored people were holding a party, was blown up by dynamite and several inmates were [illegible], fatally wounded. No particulars are given.

A Town Burned.

GRAND FORKS, Dak., December 27.—This morning the town of Auburn north of this city, was almost wiped out by fire, nearly the entire business portion of the place being destroyed. Scarcity of water and fire apparatus made the buildings a prey to the flames. Loss not known.

Confidence in De Lesseps.

PARIS, December 27.—At a meeting to-day of 4000 bondholders of the Panama Canal company a resolution was unanimously adopted expressing confidence in De Lesseps and volunteering to forego interest on coupons and redemption of bonds until the canal is opened for traffic.

A Race [illegible] Fear.

LAMAR, Miss., December 27.—Everything is quiet. The report of race troubles grew out of apprehension on the part of the whites that a conflict between them and the blacks would be precipitated by the conduct of some negroes. No trouble is anticipated.

Counterfeiters Captured.

NEW YORK, December 27.—Three counterfeiters were captured by United States officers this evening in their den in Brooklyn while engaged in their work of making counterfeit silver dollars. They were found at work behind barred doors. A complete outfit of counterfeiting implements surrounded them.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

The Russian budget for 1889 shows a surplus income of 1,000,000 roubles.

The Louisville Trotting association will, it is announced, cease to exist in 1889.

Several shocks of earthquake were felt yesterday in the eastern and south eastern parts of Spain.

Prince Karageorgevitch, of Russia, is dead. He leaves a fortune to his brother, the pretender to the Servian throne.

A false alarm of fire in a Berlin theatre last night caused a temporary panic among the audience. No one was injured.

The British war steamers Swiftsure and Caroline left Acapulco yesterday morning. It is supposed Panama is their destination.

James Queen, a prominent citizen of Wolcott, N. Y., cut his wife's throat yesterday and then ended his own life in like manner. Domestic trouble was the cause.

A meeting of the national republican committee of France, unanimously resolved to support General Boulanger for the vacant seat in the deputies for the Seine.

Prof. Geffcken was examined in Berlin yesterday in connection with the diary of the late Emperor Frederick, and his whole past career. His trial will begin [illegible] about the middle of January.

"World Against Her."

Joseph Grismer and Phoebe Davies are prime favorites with Colorado Springs audiences and the announcement that they would be seen in a new play filled the opera house to overflowing last night. The play, the "World Against Her," is a melodrama of the most pronounced English type. It is by the same author that wrote Effie Ellsler's play of "Woman Against Woman," and is built very much on the same lines. The Denver critic, who a few days ago declared that if the author wrote another such play he would have the world against him, said a bright thing, as well as told the truth. The audience went to see the stars, but were really entertained with a Punch and Judy show, a trained dog and a dog fight. There is entirely too much of such matters and too little of Mr. Grismer and Miss Davies. The scene in which the husband and wife part and the wife decides to steal her child, was as pretty a piece of acting as was ever seen on the opera house stage. Mr. Grismer and Miss Davis are among the rising young actors of the country and they cannot afford to tamper with such plays. Mr. Grismer purchased the play without having seen it, and as he had made expensive preparations to play it on the present tour he has been almost compelled to do so. The play caught the audience last night especially the up stairs portion of it, and they fairly went wild at the end of the fifth act when the villain was well pounded the thieves captured and virtue and constancy rewarded. Frank Hatch as "Bob Miller" and Miss Jennie Clevelandas his wife "Sally" were as amusing as possible. In fact there is nothing wrong with the performance excepting that Mr. Grismer and his wife are too big for the play. It is probable that the company will be seen here again next July in a new play called "Forgiven" which they have tried and found very satisfactory.

George Brown, colored, was arrested in Colorado City on Christmas and lodged in the county jail charged with the theft of a watch.

The Republic of last night announces that it will not appear on Friday; that it may devote the time for the preparation of its New Year's number.

A change in the time card of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad was made on Sunday. The changes in trains Nos. 2 and 8 will be of particular interest to persons visiting Denver.

Among the most pleasant events of Christmas was the dancing party given by Miss Lela Horn at her home on North Nevada avenue Christmas night. There were fifteen couples present.

Mrs. Anna T. Shields, wife of Mr. W. H. Shields, died at their home on Nevada avenue on Christmas day. The remains were taken over the Rock Island to Troy, N. Y., yesterday for interment.

A new "Y" is being constructed on the D. & R. G. property south of the gas works for the accommodation of the Manitou train. Heretofore the train was frequently delayed until the coaling siding could be cleared.

The people at Green Mountain Falls enjoyed themselves hugely on Christmas. There was a Christmas tree at the hotel on Monday night and on Christmas day a fine dinner was served. In the evening they had a ball and card party at the hotel.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe will run a special train from Denver to Pueblo to-morrow, called a business men's excursion, leaving Denver about 8 a. m. It will arrive at Colorado Springs about 11 o'clock. Fare for the round trip $1.50. Tickets good for four days.

The Grand View hotel will be closed to-day, Mr. A. Q. Artz retiring from the management. Mr. Artz' lease having expired and not being able to secure a continued lease he closes the house and will retire from the business. What is to be done with the property is not stated.

Wrong Impressions Corrected!

No one should suppose because of the quantities of Indian goods to be seen in our store that such things are plentiful or easily obtained. As a matter of fact they can only be picked up here and there in the Indian country by persistent efforts. While on my recent collecting trip I bought everything I could find in this line that I considered desirable, without any regard to quantity, and I doubt if all other Curiosity Stores in Colorado and New Mexico together could make as large a showing of the same class of goods. What is seen in our store constitutes about three-fourths of the VISIBLE SUPPLY. It may be said in fact that we have a CORNER ON THE MARKET. We do not intend to take advantage of our customers on this account, however, but will give them all a chance to come in and COVER THEIR SHORTAGE before the prices go up.

We are having brief histories of some of our Indian wares printed on slips, [illegible] customers who buy such articles for presents will be furnished with as many of the slips as they need for their friends. It will save much writing and the slips may be kept with the articles in the cabinet.

We pack for shipment without extra charge, any fragile articles sold by us, as we know that inexperienced packing of such goods is apt to result in disaster.

We have a large stock of Gold and Silver Filigree Jewelry this year, made by Mexicans in Santa Fe, and our stock of Native Jewelry and Agate goods is very complete.

We have just had five dozen choice genuine Indian arrow heads mounted as Scarf and Lace Pins and have had three dozen fine Mexican Opals, handsomely mounted in Scarf Pins and Finger Rings, all of which will be on sale this morning.

Some one asked me the other day if I bought any Opals while in New Mexico. Why, we have the past year carried a larger stock of Opals than all the dealers in New Mexico together, and I took Opals down there with me to sell to them at wholesale. We act as agents for the largest Opal dealer of Mexico.

There [illegible] to be a great deal of jealousy among the "big four" in New York. The result of the election materially changed the situation. It was expected Miller would be elected governor of New York and, therefore, be out of the way. Hiscock is already in the senate, while Depew was willing to take a foreign mission. This left a fine chance of Platt going into the cabinet. This would practically have given the patronage to Platt and Hiscock. In case Platt did not go into the cabinet, he would probably have the largest influence of [illegible] in patronage. But the defeat of Miller has seriously deranged these plans. The Harrison men will rightly feel grateful to Miller for his loyalty to the national ticket. It is now evident that both could not have been elected, and Mr. Miller unselfishly preferred the success of the national ticket. Undoubtedly the incoming administration at present is under greater obligations to Miller than to any other one of the "big four," and his claims are likely to be considered before [illegible] of any of the rest. This fact [illegible] aroused a good deal of feeling. Hiscock and Platt have apparently pooled their issues, and Morton is assisting them as far he can. It would be a misfortune to have a split in the republican party in New York at the present time. A good way to heal the trouble is this. Mr. Evarts is finding a senatorial life a good deal of a bore and cannot be re-elected anyway. He probably would resign to receive the appointment of minister to Great Britain. If this were done, it would leave a seat in the senate and a seat in the cabinet to be given to Miller and Platt. This would make everything pleasant and happy in the Empire state. This combination leaves out Depew. But Depew is a man who does not lead any faction, and who is not likely to disturb party harmony because somebody has hurt him. He has a very good position now. He receives six times the salary of a cabinet minister, and wields more power.

Mr. J. B. Dillenback in the course of some remarks at the State Teachers' association made some remarks which seem to have offended some of the Denver reporters. He criticised quite severely the character of the work done by the reporters on the Denver papers. He need not have limited his criticism, however, to the Denver papers, for they apply very generally to the reporting done in other parts of the state. The bad grammar and awkward construction he complains of, is, however, the least objection. The main objection is the want of judgment and the abundance of gush. A reporter, in writing up a news item, should simply tell the news. But, instead, his report frequently is largely an editorial opinion with some facts interspersed through it. He constitutes himself both judge and jury, and passes upon all the questions at issue. This is not reporting, and is always the fault of untrained writers on loosely edited papers. Another very glaring fault is indiscriminate puffing. Every party is spoken of as a "great social event," every home is described as "the home of culture and refinement," though the vulgarity of it sticks out everywhere in the report, every party is attended by "our best people." When a young lady is married, she is the daughter of "one of our best families," etc. This writing simply pleases a very common class of people who are written about. The general reader has learned to know that these expressions do not mean anything, and, unless he wants something of the same kind written about himself, is disgusted by them. Instead of the Denver reporters feeling offended, at criticism, they should be thankful for it. Judicious criticism will tend to raise the standard of their work and give them better pay. The trouble with our metropolitan papers is, not that they lack talent, but that they lack careful editing. As a general thing the reporters are required to write very much more than they can write well, in order to earn a living. Those who should supervise their copy usually have to write too much to do this with care. The result is that there are a great many faults. All untrained [illegible] continues unchecked, and mistakes are all the time creeping into his report.

ONE AGAINST 300.

How a Brave Hunter Poured Leaden Hail into a Band of Redskins.

[illegible]

[illegible] cool old Winchester again pours forth its terrible destruction, causing the Indians to break for the sides, where they attempt to climb up the overhanging rocks. They fail in this, and at the head [illegible] of Black Sear, surge round in, from face to face with their desperate foe. Pat's revolver, a self cocker, does deadly work, fired into the falling mass ten feet away, but the last load is gone, and again the Winchester at [illegible] range covers the ground with dead and dying.

Whether the great white brave is wounded or not no one will ever know. The red monsters are forced back from that death-vomiting rock, back from a single gun, back from one man, back from brave Pat Hennessey. In a few moments the whole band would have fled, when suddenly the firing ceased. Pat's gun had become so dirty and hot by such constant firing that horrible to relate, while attempting to put in a cartridge it stuck fast and could be forced neither in nor out. The Indians supposed he was out of ammunition and with savage yells rushed in to secure their great prize. Pat met them with clubbed gun, and broken heads and bones were plenty as they came within sweep of his strong arms in the death struggle, but those behind still pressed on and he was soon over powered and secured. Infuriated at the loss of so many of their number they took poor Pat, tore his scalp from his head, bound him to one of his own wagon wheels, piled sacks of oats around him and set them on fire. Just as they commenced their devilish torture and dance around their victim they heard a shot echo from the distance. The alarm was raised that the soldiers were coming, and a stampede at once began. Picking up the wounded and some of the dead, the Indians mounted their horses and scampered off.

The evening shades gathered darkly and all was still as the fire burned, and the spirit of brave Pat passed away and found rest in the land of the hereafter.

There he was buried the next day by some other fighters. The bodies of thirty dead Indians were also found and were afterward removed by their red brothers.

The Soul as a Mouse.

[illegible]

It is more frequently the case [illegible] that the wandering soul delights to masquerade in, though according to [illegible] it is the devil's bride [illegible] out of whose mouths the soul runs in the shape of a red mouse. Thus we are told that in Thuringia a servant girl fell asleep while her companions were shelling nuts, when they observed a little red mouse creep out of her parted lips and run out of the window. One of those present then shook the sleeper, but not succeeding in waking her, moved her to another place. Presently the mouse ran back to the former place and dashed about, seeking the girl, but not finding her, it vanished. [illegible]
